

HELPFUL BAKERS

Amy Driscoll from King Arthur Flour visited the fourth graders at Hilltop School in Mendham on Friday, Oct. 21, for their program, "Bake for Good: Kids." Students watched as Driscoll and two student volunteers, Ellie Clark, left, and Will Pynzar mixed and kneaded dough and then demonstrated how to transform it into recipes for cinnamon buns, pizza dough, braided loaves of bread, and garlic knots before their eyes. They discussed the science and math behind baking. All students left with flour and yeast for two recipes. The students baked 60 loaves that were later donated to the Community Food Kitchen in Morristown.
